Telling The World

Did you ever view such an awe-struck group as was seen during the broadcast at the Marine Barracks? Everyone certainly was thrilled completely. Even the building itself was magnificent. The band with the uniforms of navy blue and white sitting in the pit against a background of navy velvet curtains, a ceiling of white marble, and the colors furnished by the various instruments made an amazing and beautiful picture for each and everyone.

Didn't you receive a thrill when the marines opened the broadcast with the old theme song? The power and ability the leader had in conducting! His slightest movement was an indication of a certain tempo. Alertness and efficiency were shown by all members, not to mention their dignity.

Mr. Ray Turner's conducting of the musical interlude gave us a marvelous and surprising sensation. It was much more enjoyable to be there and really see everything in action.

I'm sure when we go each to our respective homes, that whenever we hear that program or the U. S. Marine Band, these pictures will always come rushing back to us. It was very awe-inspiring and beautiful to us all.

WE LIKE OUR FARM HOMES!

"You can take the boy out of the country but you can't take the country out of the boy," Dr. Ziegler quoted this morning. How true that seemed of him! Although he is now working in the city he seemed just like one of us country boys and girls.

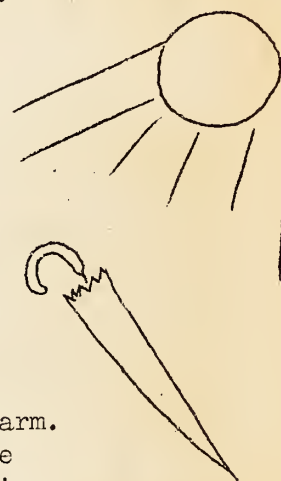

I especially liked him because he was so friendly and seemed so intensely interested in his work of promoting health.

So often we are disappointed in a speaker because he doesn't look and act the part he speaks. But not so with Dr. Ziegler. He was the picture of health!

FORECAST: RAIN

As I stood at the back of the auditorium waiting for our morning speaker a portly, pleasant-looking man walked in with a twinkle in his eye and an umbrella on his arm. I decided immediately that this must be Dr. Humphreys of the Weather Bureau since he evidently had some advance information on the weather. The sun was shining brightly then, but since - well, his unspoken prophecy has certainly come true.

I was very glad to have the honor of escorting to the platform a native of the State where "Hillbillies are always libertines" or "Mountaineers are always freemen."

PROGRAM~

The youth groups of Washington presented a program at the Sylvan Theater Monday evening in our honor.

Urban Hopmann of Fort Bend County, Tex., acted as master of ceremonies. Music was presented by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Orchestra with Dr. Walter Bauer, conductor.

Dorothy Keady of Washington greeted us.

The Girl Reserve Glee Club presented three groups of very excellent numbers with Mary M. Burnett, director, and Kathryn Latimer, accompanist. We all joined them in singing The 4-H Field Song.

The Boys' Club Tune Ticklers were grand. The tumbling team directed by William H. Bush, presented some fine acts.

A Pair of Lunatics, presented by the Community Players, was a laugh for all of us.

The Metropolitan Police Boys' Club have a real harmonica band and presented some very fine hillbilly numbers.

I'm sure we all enjoyed the tumbling clown and the Three Tappers.

Geanette Bittner and Eugene Kressin each sang a solo, and then a duet together, and in the end Shakespeare's Play "The Comedy of Errors" presented by the Community Players was very wonderful. They did some very fine acting.

We sincerely want to express our thanks to the youth groups of Washington. It was a wonderful program.

THANK YOU

National Cathedral

The delegates of the Tenth National 4-H Club Camp on the tenth tour went to the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, Mount St. Albans. We entered the cathedral through the door that had been dedicated to the women of America. As we came into the main part of the building, we observed the beautiful stained-glass windows.

In this hall of the cathedral was a flag from each of the 48 States. In the house of prayer for all people we saw the prayer service, as we were there at 12:00 noon which was one of the required times for the prayer. Other services are at 7:30 a. m. and 4:00 p. m.

This cathedral is not yet completed. When it is finished it will compare favorably with any other cathedral in the world. The building is mostly of Indiana limestone, which is very easily carved. We saw the Bethlehem Chapel where there were many interesting things.

In this beautiful building, we saw the tombs of Woodrow Wilson and George Dewey.

When the cathedral is finished the main tower will extend 107 feet higher than the Washington Monument. We hope to visit it when it is completed.

Mr. Turner and several others have received many letters and telegrams, wishing the 10th National 4-H Club Camp the best. They have come from all parts of the country and many are from campers of former years.

The Bureau of Plant Industry is going to send to each delegate a rose plant. They will be sent after you return. Our thanks to Dr. F. D. Richey, chief of the Bureau, and members of his staff.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

At 2:30 on Tuesday we began one of the most interesting tours of the week - to the Arts and Industries Building of the Smithsonian Institution. It was interesting because we were bringing back to our memories some of the costumes and inventions that were new and in use at the time of our parents' childhood days.

The building had a marvelous exhibition of some of our early art, but it didn't hold the interest of all of us as well as the industries exhibits.

The first sight to greet our eyes as we entered was the "Spirit of St. Louis", the plane in which Charles A. Lindbergh made the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic.

The flag that Francis Scott Key referred to in his National Anthem occupies one wall and by all appearances proves that it has endured some hard battles.

In walking through the rest of the building we saw some of the first airplanes, and I heard several club members remark that they would hate to ride in anything like that. In that way we began to realize the courage that some of the early fliers must have had even to try anything like flying an airplane.

The old carriages and automobiles showed us the progress that has been made in a very few years. The same is true of the steam engine and the locomotive.

The military section proved very interesting to all of us. It displayed the type of clothes worn by our Revolutionary fathers and some of their fighting material.

We surely have had a swell time here at Washington, and every one of us will go home with lasting memories of our National 4-H Club Camp. Goodbye!

GOODBYE, GOOD LUCK, AND THE BEST OF WISHES! - - ALL OF US!
